QurHealth is set to redefine personalised healthcare with the launch of QurOne

Underlying its commitment to ensuring individuals remain healthy and have easy access to quality healthcare, QurHealth, a healthcare data management startup, has announced the launch of QurOne – India's 1st value-based patient healthcare concierge program guaranteeing medical expertise at the fingertips. QurHealth has served more than 26000 customers through its Qurbook app and had more than 2500 QurOne program subscriptions so far. With the launch of QurOne, the platform aims to pave the way for a new beginning of healthcare in the country, promoting seamless patient care and hyper-coordinated workflow.

Leveraging QurOne's offerings, patients can consult with doctors they trust, monitor their health, learn about any comorbidities and symptoms, stick to healthy diet plans as per their requirements, and get real-time updates – all from the comfort of their homes. On the other hand, healthcare providers can use QurOne to diagnose patients, understand comorbidities, explain care plans, prescribe medication, provide medical assistance, schedule appointments, and chart diet regimens in order to treat their patients back to health swiftly.

Ravi Kunduru, Founder and CEO of QurHealth, said, "We are elated with the latest addition in QurHealth's remarkable journey. To ramp up infrastructure and provide patients with best-in-class services amid this global war against COVID-19, we launched QurOne, India's 1st patient care concierge program, which was offered as part of our corporate social responsibility to COVID-19 hospitals and patients."
